

Trees Planting Day

Trees Planting Day comes on March 12th every year. Do you know what can we do on the day?

In China, this special day began in 1979. On that day, people can plant many trees. And if we plant more trees, we must also take care of the trees by watering them until they grow up. In different countries, Trees Planting Days are on different days. Like in India, Trees Planting Day is on July 1st.

Why do the people plant trees? It is very easy. Because they want to protect the environment (环境). There are many people who want to earn the money from only cutting down trees. So more and more trees are disappearing (消失). But there are still many people want to protect the environment and make the air clean. So they plant trees as many as they can.

All these actions show that people should pay more attention to the environment. We want to make it better, don't we? So we must plant more trees to protect the environment.

So if you want to make the air clean, please try your best to protect the environment and plant more trees.
