Attending a new school can be hard. Everything is different, and you don't know your way around the school. It is difficult to make new friends as well. However, you will be able to adjust to the environment(环境). Here are some tips to help you make friends.

Be confident and smile

Take a deep breath, and walk into your new school with confidence. Try to remember that you'll meet kids with similar interests, and you will be able to make new friends. Smile when you walk down the halls of your new school. When you smile, people will think you are friendly and easy to talk.

Be nice and talk to others

Make the first move by making eye contact with people and saying hello. The easiest way to start a conversation with someone is to say something nice about him or her. For example, you can comment on someone's great answer to a teacher's question, a great prize, a nice shirt, etc. People will feel good if you so do and will keep talking with you.

Remember people's names

People like it when you say their names. However, they can get annoyed if you don't remember their names. You can also ask them gently if they have a nickname (绰号). You'd be surprised where this can come in handy(排上用场).

Join school activities

Join a school activity, such as sports or drama. You'll find someone who has the same interest with you even if you don't know who they are yet.

Be vourself

Don't change who you are just to fit in with a group. If people don't accept you for who you are, they are not really your friends.
